

“The Engineer’s Energy Toolbox: Practices, Technologies and Management”
December 6 and 7, 2006

Galveston Island Convention Center at the San Luis Resort
Galveston, Texas

Exhibitor Information

How can energy management contribute toward your plant or business achieving its lowest long-term manufacturing cost? This will be one key to success in chemical manufacturing and refining in the coming decade. This conference will examine the tools in the Engineer’s Toolbox, from the best practices in programs and new technologies that are proving themselves today, to the management strategies that sustain results.

Session topics will address issues of interest to engineers in the chemical manufacturing and petroleum refining industries that are facing high energy prices, while continuing to meet stricter NOx emission standards on their combustion units. In addition to the sessions on energy management topics and Showcase companies, a special series of sessions will highlight NOx reduction technology implementation case studies.

The two-day conference will include three plenary sessions, four concurrent technical tracks on both days, an exhibit hall with 35 exhibitors, and Showcase company highlights.

Exhibitors are encouraged that provide technologies or services that:

- Improve energy efficiency in the industrial sector.
- Reduce or is neutral with respect to environmental emissions.
- Has proven commercial scale performance data that can be discussed with prospective customers.
- Will be represented at the Showcase by at least one person with in-depth technical knowledge.

Exhibitor registration will open on September 15 through the Showcase website www.showcasetexas.org To be notified when the Exhibitor Prospectus becomes available, email kferland@mail.utexas.edu If you have questions before September 15, contact Sue Phillips at 512-239-6327 or email sphillip@tceq.state.tx.us
